

QUEENS' SCHOOL

Dare to be Great

Peripatetic Music Teacher: Singing

Closing date: Friday 28th March

2024/2025 Salary: £34.42 per hour (inclusive of holiday pay).

Hours of work: 2 Hours per week (initially with scope to grow this provision).

An opportunity has arisen for an enthusiastic and experienced music teacher to join our growing team of peripatetic instrumental tutors within the specialist facilities here at Queens' School.

You will be joining a new dynamic and thriving department where Music is valued and at the heart of the school's culture. Indeed, 5% of students gain a place at Queens' each year through musical aptitude.

There is a growing co-curricular programme of music every week. We are ambitious to expand our provision to eventually include:

- Big Band
- Junior and Senior Orchestras
- Junior, Senior and Chamber Choirs
- Intermediate and Senior Wind Bands
- Brass Band and Ensemble

We host a number of events throughout the year which include:

- Annual Musical Theatre production
- Carol Concert
- Spring and Summer Concerts
- Battle of the Bands
- Arts Festival

GCSE and A-Level Music numbers are growing each year and students have historically left to pursue Music at top universities and conservatoires.

Students across Years 7-13 can take peripatetic lessons across the full range of instruments and take graded exams and diplomas each term across all exam boards.

Due to an anticipated surge in demand for music lessons, we are seeking to enhance our music provision. With a number of practice rooms in the department, there is flexibility for the successful candidate to choose their preferred day and working pattern. If a candidate has a second instrument, there may also be further scope to expand their hours here.

Peripatetic teachers are eligible for the Teachers' Pension Scheme (TPS).

For further information or questions about the post may be directed to Jack Penhaligon, Head of Music (email: penhalja@queens.herts.sch.uk)
